Phone Repair Business For Sale - Earn $100k with 4 weeks training

Where else can you earn $100k per year with only 4 weeks training?

This is not a get rich scheme, it's a phone repair business in a shopping mall (in Red-bank Plains) that I've run for 10 years.

$53,000 plus SAV (approx. $20k in parts and accessories). Negotiable.

Why selling?

I have opened 3 stores because this business model works. I'm only selling one because I'm starting a VR company and need to free up my time. This store is the only one I run personally, and selling will save me 50 hours per week for my new venture.

Training and support

It might surprise you to learn you can replace me with just 4 weeks training, but in truth 90% of our repairs are screen replacements. You'll be completing standard jobs in no time, and one of my casual staff members can stay on for continued support if desired. NAME has been repairing with me for 5 years, and can help you with tricky jobs and further training.

Is this a franchise?

No. You will own the business outright. You have the option to keep the shop as-is with a new name or rebrand completely.

Start working for yourself

This business makes me 2x the pay of doing a similar job as an employee. If you're into technology it could do the same for you. We can have you running this proven business yourself within the next few weeks (no qualifications needed).
